You must be able to attend all 4 sessions

Exciting news – registration is now open for our February self-defense class! And guess what? It's absolutely FREE, but here's the catch – you have to attend all four nights.

The classes are on February 11, 13, 18, 20, from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the Fairfax County Criminal Justice Academy (14601 Lee Rd, Chantilly).

We've got a fantastic program lined up with essential tips on crime prevention and personal safety. Plus, we're throwing in some hands-on self-defense practice if you're up for it (optional).

This class is exclusively for WOMEN. However, if you're between 13-17 years old, you're welcome to register! Just be sure to bring a registered female parent or guardian with you.

Space is limited, and registration is on a first-come, first-served basis. We cannot hold spots, so make sure to secure yours as soon as possible—there's no waitlist.

If the registration is full, don't worry! Keep checking the sign-up page since spots may become available if someone cancels. Additionally, openings frequently occur a day or two before the first session, so check back regularly!

Please do NOT sign up if you're unable to commit to attending all four sessions. Missing a class means you won't be able to attend the rest, as each session builds on prior material and includes essential safety briefings. If your schedule changes and you can no longer attend, please be considerate of others and remove your name from the Sign-Up Genius to free up your spot.
